

DIGITAL AGENCY

Experience Director

Cologne

An Experience Director at DEMODERN must be self-motivated to make game-changing experiences while inspiring others in the team to do the same. You love making strong decisions that shape the creative process from concept to launch. Leading design efforts and creating amazing work across all services is key, through collaboration with client services, strategy, design, and technology. Design execution and capabilities are paramount; our Creative Directors are equally responsible for hands-on creating as well as mentoring other designers. This is a 'doing' and 'managing' role, and applicants must be great with clients and ready to commit themselves to our culture and long term ambitions.

You'll be working with one of the biggest brands on earth, focused on helping them win the battle for hardware (phones, speakers, living room products etc...)

You can do this

Lead and inspire those around you through great work and attitude.

Design digital experiences that set new standards and solve problems.

Present ideas clearly and effectively with passion and dedication.

Work hard and play hard — Let's be honest, late nights happen... you game?

Be humble and leave your ego at the door.

Stay hungry and push yourself in every single challenge.

You have this

5+ years of design and interactive work (3+ years in a digital agency setting).

Strong knowledge of interaction in visual design, user-centered experience design, interaction design, brand development and the creative process.

Proven leadership skills — We're looking for leaders who can create, move projects forward, and mentor.

A solid point-of-view and a collaborative nature.

An entrepreneurial and independent spirit.

Real passion for our craft: design, creativity, technology.

You get this

Money.

Full benefits including medical, dental, and vision.

Paid holidays and vacation.

Amazing clients to work with.

Dogs to pet and things to drink.

A great working space downtown, right next to Petco Park (Padres Stadium).

A team that works hard, has fun, and loves a challenge.

Growth opportunities.

Please send your application not via snail mail, but via mail to jobs@demodern.de