

DIGITAL AGENCY

Intern Producing & Project Management

Hamburg

As part of the team, you'll be involved in AR, VR, installations and web projects from the beginning til the end. In a consistent team you work alongside our producers on consulting, planning and all important project processes, structures and sub-projects to support them with your know-how and to learn every day something new. In best case, you did not do this for the first time and, in addition to your training or as a career changer, you are looking for getting more practical experience in a demanding agency. We're not looking for people for the status quo: share your personality, get involved, be interested in the digital industry - and we are looking forward to having you as a full member of our team. Please send us your application not by mail but by e-mail.

Requirements:

- You want to work with us and bring at least 4-6 months time
- You are not afraid of dealing with new technologies
- You have empathy and trend awareness
- You show commitment, team spirit and ...
- ... are autonomous and love to accept responsibility;
- ... work independently, communicatively and structurally;
- ... know the current topics, especially social and digital trends;
- ... are passionate about your activity;
- ... master the common office tools;
- ... are afraid to communicate in writing and in English.

Please send your application not via snail mail, but via mail to jobs@demodern.de
